

COPR 2023 Photo Contest: Announcing the Winners!

Thank you for taking the time to enter your photographs in the Canadian Organization of Paramedic Regulators (COPR) second annual photo contest. The Selection Committee was blown away by the entries we received from across Canada.

You showed us examples of innovation, training and safety. Other photos captured paramedics displaying professionalism and community spirit and the personal connection between team members. Still others showed us the conditions in which paramedics put themselves to keep people safe all set to the backdrop of our beautiful country.

With such a wide array of photos, it made choosing finalists extremely difficult. We are grateful that so many individuals took the time to participate!

Thank you to everyone who submitted photos; you helped make this photo contest a success. All entries will be shared on COPR's social media channels throughout the year.

Follow us on Twitter and Instagram @copr_ocrp and LinkedIn!

Without further delay, here are our 2023 Photo Contest Winners:

WINNER: Photographer: Gil Maraboto, Saskatchewan. This photo will appear on the cover of Canadian Paramedicine Magazine!

RUNNERS UP:

Jessie Broeders in the beautiful Fraser Canyon,
Hope, BC after a long night shift.

This photo was taken at Nokomis SK,
demonstrating great teamwork. Photo taken by Janelle Wilson of Strasbourg EMS.

Photographer: Gil Maraboto, Saskatchewan

